Turn Out.

Let there be a large attendance of the people at the meeting next Thursday, August 5th, to hear Gen. HAYES and Judge LAWRENCE. The issues of this campaign are important, and every true citizen is called upon to meet and decide them in an intelligent, patriotic manner. The whole nation is looking to Ohio, and tremblingly awaits its verdict, feeling that there is national dishonor in a democratic victory. With such an interest on the part of outsiders, surely it becomes the duty of the voters of Gallia county to prepare themselves to decide wisely the great questions presented to them. The way to do this intelligently is to hear the issues stated and discussed, and this meeting on the 5th of August will afford that opportunity. Come, listen, and then go to the polls in the light of the truth presented, and fearlessly and honestly perform the duty of a good citizen.

Democratic Economy Tested by Facts and Figures.

The democratic press, and democratic orators, are claiming economy for its Legislature. Pendleton had the boldness to make this claim. The truth of the matter is tested by facts and figures, published on the first page, under the head of "Democratic economy in Ohio," and we call the attention of voters to the exposure.

Pendleton claimed a reduction of over $400,000 in the expenses of the State as the result of democratic rule. But how was this done? It was done by creating a new debt, and that new debt is much larger than the saving above claimed. The report of the Auditor of State for 1874, estimates this deficit, or debt, which will exist on November 15, 1875, at $638,995.77! The Auditor gives the figures in proof of this deficit, and then says: "As the case thus appears, there is no other resort from practical repudiation of upwards of half a million of the loan of 1875, than a temporary loan to meet it."

The democratic Legislature did reduce the tax levy for State purposes to the extent of $400,000, and over, but it did not reduce the actual expenses. And the deficit thereby created has to be met hereafter by an increase of taxation. This the Auditor clearly shows. After furnishing the facts and the figures in the case, he says:

The deficiency above indicated is a condition of the fund not unlooked for, and it mainly arises from the reduction of the rates of taxation established in 1873 at three and one-half mills to three and two-tenths mills, resulting in a reduction in the State taxes upon the duplicate of 1874, payable in 1875, of the estimated sum of about $474,000.

This reduction in the State levy, against which I earnestly protested, works to the detriment of the credit of the State, in producing a deficiency in the sum required to meet the maturing obligations on account of the funded debt, which will fall due January 1, 1876, by making it impossible for the Asylum Fund to return the balance of the sums temporarily transferred to it.

And then follows a statement in regard to the State debt, as follows:

The State debt due and falling due January 1, 1876, including $30,700 not bearing interest, amounts to.....	$1,515,565 00
The estimated interest for same period to.....	$716,026 00
The estimated interest on the irredeemable debt to.....	480,000 00
Total to January 1, 1876.....	$2,711,591 00
To meet this are the following items:
Balance in Treasury November 15, 1874.....	$450,569 39
Estimated collections on duplicate of 1874.....	1,262,170 08
Estimated collections from miscellaneous sources.....	40,000 00
Total.....	1,752,739 97
Estimated deficiency in the amount required to pay the loan at maturity.....	$958,851 03
Deficiency all around. This is democratic financiering. Borrowing from Peter to pay Paul—borrowing from one fund to lessen the taxes of another—is all the "economy," that the democrats can brag of. A practical, thorough business man would never think of calling such an operation economy. In business circles it would be considered the road to sure and certain bankruptcy. A lessening of over $400,000 in taxes, but a deficiency of over $900,000! Wonderful financiering! It would ruin the credit of any State or firm, or individual, who would pursue it for a few years. There has been no economy. The whole claim is a cheat and a humbug.

Endorsement.

MR. PENDLETON was very mild upon the currency question—somewhat conservative—and in that respect gave full endorsement to the Republican platform. The banners of the West Virginia delegation didn't seem to impress him with much force. One of these banners said: "We prefer the rag baby to the golden calf," but Mr. Pendleton answered and said, "I believe that a return to specie payments should be kept steadily in view in our legislation and action, and that wise statesmanship will seek the means of reconciling such return with the true interests of labor and business, and justice to the debtor."

This is the precise sentiment of the Republican platform, and these West Virginia gentlemen must have felt themselves sold, when they realized the truth that they spent two sleepless nights, and one day, in coming here and returning, to hear Republicanism thus endorsed by one of its favorite leaders. The Republican platform says:

"Second—That policy of finance should be speedily pursued which, without unnecessary shock to business or trade, will ultimately equalize the purchasing capacity of the coin and paper dollar."

We thank Mr. Pendleton for his endorsement of the Republican platform. It makes us feel that it is a good thing to be a Republican.

GOV. ALLEN claims that only bondholders and National bankers want specie payments. Reader, just stop and think one moment, and you will readily discover how silly and nonsensical this statement is. Of all men in the world, these two classes, if they possess the common selfish feelings of the race, would necessarily oppose specie payments. And why? First, the bondholders already receive their interest in gold, and there being a margin between it and paper, their profits are much greater without specie payments in general. Then second, National bankers, without specie payment, can keep out a much larger circulation, and in that way greatly enhance their profits. If there are any people in the world whose interests would lead them to oppose specie payments it is the bondholders and National bankers.

We do not say this because we are a specie payment advocate. We are not. We think the time has not arrived yet for such a radical measure. We believe it would injure, if not destroy the business interests of the country to do it at present. We believe in the Republican State platform, to-wit: that specie payment must be approached slowly. But we say it simply to show the foolishness of democratic argument. The cry of bondholders and National bankers—the arraying of the poor against the rich—is supposed to be popular with the masses, and in that view these demagogues travel over the State preaching such nonsense.

Democracy in Cincinnati.

Another opportunity is presented for the "branding" process promised by the Bulletin. A bill has been filed in the Probate Court, of Hamilton county, impeaching Mayor Johnson, of Cincinnati, for malfeasance and misfeasance in office, and asking for his removal. For the same reasons bills are being prepared against the Street Commissioner and members of the Board of City Improvements, citing them to appear before the Probate Court, and asking that they be removed from office. These are democrats, but the Bulletin should not hesitate on that account. It is a severe trial, we know, for one who, in his recent Columbus speech, expressed such a holy horror of rottenness "to the core" in the case of "the party in power," but we hope his virtue is equal to the emergency, and that he will now come down with "rotten to the core" in democratic Cincinnati.

THE N. Y. Herald says it is expected that CARL SCHUEZ will come home from Europe in time to take a hand in the Ohio campaign, giving his influence in behalf of the Republican ticket. He will be welcomed by thousands of Liberal Germans.

MR. WALKER, in his speech here at the "opening," spoke of Vallandigham, as the "world renowned orator, hero and statesman." It is unfortunate perhaps that the people of Ohio differ with Mr. WALKER. Their estimate of the man is found in the 100,000 majority which they gave against him when a candidate for Governor.

GROSVENOR, of Missouri, the man who organized the Liberal party and called the Cincinnati Convention to order, will speak in Cleveland, for the Republicans, on the 12th of August.

This democratic opening, last Wednesday, was a success in numbers but in nothing else. Allen's speech was weak and senseless, full of the egotism and feebleness of an old man, doing more harm than good to the cause for which he was brought here. Mr. Pendleton did somewhat better, though he largely failed to meet the expectations of the people. It was not pleasant to the Carities to hear him say, "for the present, I repeat, I am a hard money man." The best speech of the meeting, in its delivery, was made by Hon. H. S. Walker, of W. Va. The matter, however, was objectionable, even to an Ohio democratic audience, and had the effect to make Republican votes. It was wholly Southern and sectional, being characterized by such epithets as "scalawag" and "Cuffee."

The attendance was good, a fair estimate placing it at about 5,000. Over four-fifths of these were from points outside of the county. Even Allen and Pendleton could not draw the Gallia county yeomanry from their work.

Dark Lanterns.

The Bulletin, in the bitterness of its partisan spirit, has been pleased to charge Republicans with the organization of secret political societies. It is a false accusation, of course, as every Republican knows, and does not merit a contradiction. But how is it as regards the democrats, and their allies, the Catholics. If recent developments are to be believed, there are startling movements in progress in this regard, which it will be well for the friends of religious liberty and American freedom to watch with zealous care. In proof we quote:

(From the Anzeiger des Westens (St. Louis).)

It appears from English-American newspapers in Ohio that a Catholic military organization has been formed in Niles, Trumbull county, in that State. Cary, the juggler, lately delivered a speech there in which he tried to humbug the people into the belief that gold and silver are inventions of the devil, which will change into gold and silver when they are touched, while paper rags, neatly printed, are a blessing which all can enjoy. It would have been no wonder if he had proposed a candidate for the second highest office of the State to have introduced a military organization of a religious sort which would have a military priest, an infallible head outside the country, and a general organization which is dangerous to the State, is a suspicious step which can lead to no good, rather than to have in the above manner striven to plunge our nation hopelessly into ruin.

Further, the Freeman's Journal, the acknowledged head and front of the Catholic Democratic press in the United States, says:

There is, nominally, within the Democratic party a secret organization, ramified, less or more, through most of the States of the Union, and proposed to come to a head next year, in the general election, Federal and State.

Is it not time to awake, and put the heel of American religious and political freedom upon the head of this monster, and crush out its life before harm comes? Think, decide, and act.

GOV. ALLEN is now, or at least professes to be, a friend of greenbacks. If he had been such when greenbacks were needed to save the life of the nation, it would have been much better for his credit. Republicans have been their friends all the time, now as well as in the past, and in that respect are more worthy of the confidence of the public. These late in life conversions may possibly be sincere, but they don't deserve that consideration that those made in early life do. A whole life of trust and faith is much more worthy of example than one begun a few hours before the end comes. Allen's conversion to greenbacks is too late.

Good for the Farmers.

Breadstuffs, and especially wheat, have largely advanced in price. The advance on wheat in New York, is 25c., and in Chicago, 18c. per bushel. This advance is caused by a partial failure of the crop in Europe.

THE Maryland Democracy, in State Convention, last week, protested "against any increase of circulating currency." That is another stab at the Ohio Democracy.

We stated a notorious fact, last week, in regard to the First Ward, and the editor of the Bulletin calls it a "venomous insinuating fling." If there is any venom in the fact, or its statement, it is to the disgrace of the democratic party, not the JOURNAL.

This conundrum meets us everywhere: "Who writes Vance's speeches?" We have to give it up.

THE Meigs county Republican Convention met on Saturday and made the following nominations: Representatives, Alban Davies; Clerk, W. A. Rose; Auditor, Geo. P. Sanford; Probate Judge, E. B. Stanberry.

THE Directors of the Coal road met in Dayton, on the 20th, and determined to proceed at once with the construction to Jackson Court-house.

THESE are choice quotations from the speech of Mr. Walker, of West Va., at the democratic opening here last Wednesday, to-wit:—"carpet-bagger, the worthless scoundrel, the ignorant negro," "maintaining a standing army to glorify Cuff and serve him forever," "the importation of bull pups as the plaything of the present Chief Magistrate of the United States," and so on ad infinitum.

WE hear that Rec. Battelle of Gallipolis will be called upon to conduct the Camp Meeting this Fall. We hope it won't be quite so damp this year.—Arabia Correspondent of Ironton Register.

Ironton, O., July 23.—At 10 o'clock last night John Bennett went to the store of Hugh Sweeney, at Ironton Tunnel, six miles back of this place, called Sweeney up, and asked if he knew him. Sweeney gave him a glass of beer on recognizing him, and after talking a few minutes went with him to the door with a light to show him the road, when Bennett drew a revolver and fired three shots, two taking effect, one in Sweeney's ear, the other in his hip. The bullet is still in his head. Bennett is at large. The supposed object was robbery.

Gen. Cary Caught.

Every democrat will recognize the name of Geo. E. Pugh as that of one of the honored lights of the party in Ohio, having once enjoyed its Senatorial honors. Well Cary, in a recent speech in the northern part of the State, quoted Thomas Jefferson and John C. Calhoun as being, in their time, in favor of a system of inconvertible paper money. As a democrat who followed the fathers, this appeared to Mr. Pugh as heterodox, and he addresses Cary a letter, in which he says:

I am tolerably familiar with the writings and oral utterances (so far as any record exists) of those two statesmen, and have, in my library, complete editions of both. I do not recognize either quotation, and therefore request you to give me a specific reference in each instance.

We fear Cary's reading of the democratic fathers has been imperfect, and that he is proving a blind guide to the democratic minds. When we are sustained in this opinion by so renowned a democrat as Geo. E. Pugh, we, in common with all mankind, can the more readily believe it. And easily believe in addition, what we have often asserted, that Cary is a demagogue of the first water.

A TERRIBLE accident occurred at Newark, O., last Thursday evening. The city authorities, for the purpose of testing the merits of the Champion Fire Engine, had erected a small building filled with combustible matter. The Street Commissioner and the Chief of the Fire Department were saturating the pile with gasoline, when some boys, some thirty yards above the building, placed a lighted match in the gutter, which conveyed the flame to the building, exploding it, and burying the Street Commissioner and others in the debris. A great number were badly burned; some it is believed will not recover.

A PROMINENT democrat, who came to hear Allen and Pendleton, last Wednesday, said he should vote for Allen, but he felt that it would do no good, for Hayes was bound to be elected Governor. That was the feeling of most of them, we judge, from the lack of enthusiasm which characterized the meeting. Though the meeting was large, and music, flags and banners were plenty, still the old time yells and hurrahs were missing. They must have felt the force of what the Cincinnati Commercial expresses in the following extract: "The defeat of Allen is already prophetic, calculated, prognosticated and discounted. It is to the democratic party a foreseen and foreordained catastrophe."

THE attendance from the county at the Wednesday splurge, was light. The crowd was gathered by the offer of free steamboat rides from Pomeroy, Middleport and Charleston, W. Va., and a large per cent. of these were Republicans. It cost some money to do it, but the leaders shelled out, and the people accepted of the ride.

PROF. JOHN M. LANGSTON will speak at Chillicothe at the celebration on the 2d of August.

From the New York Post, July 22.

It is no exaggeration to say that the canvass now going on in Ohio is frantic. We can recall scarcely a political campaign—none, other than that of Presidential election—in which recklessness of assertion, narrowness of view, bigotry of prejudice, the spirit of demagogism and reliance upon the most vulgar passions more abounded. The temper of the time and place sweeps away with it men who are more or less habituated to self-control. Perhaps even the loud-mouthed Allen himself, if he had been writing a letter to a friend or a message to the Legislature, instead of haranguing an excited mob from the stump, would have modified the terms of his sublimation to inflation and repudiation, but party pressure has been too strong for him.

The Missouri Republican, Democratic, says:

"Mr. Pendleton's Gallipolis speech does not come up to the inflation standard. Indeed, it is the next thing to a hard-money speech. Really, Mr. Pendleton falls far short of the Esquerra standard, and even of the Pendletonian standard of 1868. A 'currency based on coin and convertible into coin,' is the doctrine of the specie resumptionists; and if the Gallipolis speech is correctly reported, Mr. Pendleton is as sound as a silver dollar on the money question."

ALLEN talked greenbacks, Pendleton hard money. Even on the same platform the leaders are divided. A divided house must fall, you know.

The Foreign Market for Breadstuffs.

Irreparable damage to the crops throughout Great Britain, considerable damage in North Germany, from the same cause, damage from floods in a great district in France, besides the general harvest being later and not as good as usual, and heavy injury to both winter and spring wheat by excessive heat and locusts in Southern Russia and Hungary, have caused an advance of eight shillings a quarter in the English market within a brief period. When we add to all this the injury last spring by frost and drought to the wheat crop in this country, and that by rats just as the wheat was ripening, and during the harvest, it is reasonable to conclude that the crop situation in this country is not such as to cause any reaction in the British market, but, contrariwise, and that there will be an active foreign demand for our breadstuffs.—Cin. Gazette.

We try to tell how we miss him, but we cannot; how we miss him in the daily walks of life, how we miss his dear, familiar form in the social circle, but he has gone to the better world, and there is no return, and there is an aching void in our hearts which cannot be filled, but he has passed from death into life, that life which is eternal. And oh how our hearts ache for the widowed mother, who has lost her comfort, and for the sisters who have lost their counsellor and friend. Time alone can heal their sorrow. Then look up, dear mother and sisters, to that bright world where there is no more parting nor shedding of tears, and there you will meet your son and brother who has gone before.

His bell is past, his work is done, and he is fully blessed. He fought the fight, the victory won, and entered into rest. One of his many friends, E. G.

OTHER MATTERS.

John A. Hamilton, administrator of the estate of Lydia Hibben, deceased, filed an inventory of the personal property of said decedent.

The ancient Democratic cry against the banks was that they were opposed to specie; that they wanted to emit "rag money" without any liability to redeem it; that they embraced every excuse for suspending specie payments, and always prolonged the suspension all they could. Now this is all changed, and Democratic statesmen and organs, such as Cary, Pendleton, Kelley, and the Esquerra, accuse the banks of a consuming desire to redeem their notes in coin. They charge that in this they are enemies to mankind. The Democratic acumen which thinks the banks hanker to redeem their notes in specie, is as wonderful as the Democratic statesmanship which calls this desire a crime.—Cin. Gazette.

From the Cincinnati Volksblatt.

Gen. Tom Young opened the campaign on his side day before yesterday. Why this hurry in this warm weather? Gen. Young need make no exertion. He has, as the English proverb says, "a soft thing." The election of his opponent, Cary, is an impossibility. Jefferson Davis could not be elected Governor of Rhode Island than Cary Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio.
